Make Today Count in August

District Governor—Gary Parker

Make today count in August

GREETINGS FROM DISTRICT GOVERNOR GARY

Already we are in the month of August and there has been so many things to take into account as the transition to the 2012-2013 Lions year takes place. Planning for the District Convention continues as the committee lock down the details of the weekend to ensure all members will have a great time in Goulburn. Global Leadership Coordinator, PDG Paul Helmling ran a successful Zone Chair training day on 11th August – it was disappointing, because of a variety of reasons, that we were not able to get all of the Zone Chairs together. Planning is in place for future training sessions.

Lois and I are enjoying the opportunity to meet with club members and learn about the many different projects that are carried out. It has been important to acknowledge the International President's formula for a successful year - Dedication + Preparation + Teamwork = Excellence. He suggests having a plan and a road map makes us more effective and efficient by taking the guesswork and trial-and-error out of our quest for excellence. My job is supported by the great work done by Cabinet Officers and I thank them for that.

The Reading Action Program is a very good way that clubs can participate in the International President's project this year. At District level we encourage all clubs to seek out information and start now to make a difference. See Reading Action Program for information and project ideas for donating books, promoting reading and help the world fight illiteracy [RAP article on p 6].

This month's Global Service Action Campaign Engaging Our Youth is well underway. Please remember that this is an ideal time to help create the next generation of Lions leaders by involving Leos and other young people in service activities.

We have had the opportunity to come together as the District Cabinet on the 12th August. Our first meeting was very productive and each Cabinet Officer presented their targets for the year. Clubs are asked to work with the Zone Chairs to assist them to achieve the plans they have set down.

This year my theme is "Make Today Count". I encourage everyone "To be the best in what you do in everything you do on a daily basis."

Enjoy your month

District Governor Gary

DG's SNIPETTS

Our District has 2 representatives for the Advanced Lions Leadership Institute being held in Queenstown New Zealand at the end of August. Congratulations Lions Maxine Helming from the Canberra Valley Club and Sally Wilton from the Nowra Club.

Austinmer -Thirroul surprised three of their members when they presented them with Melvin Jones Fellowships at the Club Change Over in July. DG Gary had the honour of presenting Garry Sutton, Lloyd Jones, and Bill Steele with their awards.

Crookwell Club made a special donation to assist the Snowy Hydro Southcare Helicopter service at the DG's visit on the 7th August. CEO Owen Finegan accepted the donation of $1,500 and thanked the club for their ongoing support. The interesting thing to note is that the helicopter had made an emergency pickup from Crookwell the day before.

Wollongong Club took advantage of the District Governor's visit on 9th August to present Phil Walker with a Melvin Jones Fellowship. Congratulations Phil.

Canberra Valley members welcomed Kim Tan as a new member following her induction on 2nd August. DG Gary was pleased to welcome her during his Club visit.

DG Gary presented the first of his Gary Awards at the District Cabinet meeting on Sunday 12th August. He took the opportunity to acknowledge the work done by the team that delivered the Incoming Officer training for the 2012-13 year.

WOMEN'S HEALTH ISSUES

My Portfolio this year is to promote Women's Health Issues in the area of: - Breast Cancer, Diabetes, Bowel Cancer, Kidney Health and healthy living issues.

My thoughts at present are to prepare a 12 month Calendar of relevant dates of National promotion importance and to advise of support assistance which is available through the various Health channels.

I am hopeful of forwarding a survey sheet to the Clubs seeking details of Members, Partners and Daughters who have experienced these diseases and the assistance your Club gives in support of our District Cancer and Diabetes programmes.

The survey question details hopefully will be printed in the November issue of the District Newsletter,

I would be very pleased to receive communications from Clubs and individuals who may have valuable knowledge and assistance that I can use during my term that can make us all more aware of the health problems we women are prone to.

My email is igandj@shoal.net.au

With kind regards.

'CAVALCADE OF HISTORY & FASHION' - Brindabel I a Lions do it again

The Cavalcade of History & Fashion presented a wonderful parade "Promenade to Patio: 1910 – 1970" at the Queanbeyan Bicentennial Auditorium on 19th May 2012, hosted by the Canberra Brindabella Lions.

This was the eleventh time that our Club has hosted a large fashion parade and the second time with the Cavalcade of History & Fashion. It is a not for profit organization, run entirely by volunteers, and since 1962 has used the collection to assist charitable organizations raise much needed funds.

Not just a fashion parade, Promenade to Patio was a semi-theatrical event which looked at the development of Australia through the clothes and social conventions of each decade. The compere from Sydney, David O'Connell, entertained the audience with the history and anecdotes pertaining to the original owners of the clothes – elegant Edwardians, fascinators, fans, the flappers of the Roaring Twenties, ball gowns and the outrageous 1970s.

Murrumbateman Lions show their support

The Murrumbateman Lions Club has generously donated $1000 to assist Belconnen Station's Senior Constable Dave O'Donohue with his recovery from recent illness.

Supporting Dave is just one of the many contributions to the community that the Murrumbateman Lions Club has made this year.

Dave was diagnosed with a brain stem tumour in June and has recently undergone surgery to have the tumour removed. Dave's doctor believes the tumour should not grow back, which is very positive news for Dave and his family.

During a recent barbeque at AFP National Headquarters $3,400 was raised to assist Dave on his road to recovery. Through the repeated support of AFP members the total raised for Dave has now surpassed $25,000.

The Belconnen Police Station Social Club is currently holding a raffle to raise further funds, with some fantastic prizes up for grabs.

Further donations would be greatly appreciated and can be made in cash at the Belconnen Police Station or by direct debit.

Belconnen Lions Club also generously donated $250.

The Lions Club was established in 1917 and has grown to an international network of 1.3 million people working together in 200 countries and geographic areas to answer the needs that challenge communities around the world.

2012 Shoal haven Medal s Presentation

July 30, 2012

Shoalhaven City Council announced the winners of the 2012 Shoalhaven Medals at the Shoalhaven Entertainment Centre last Friday night.

The Shoalhaven Medal recognises those residents that have made an outstanding contribution to the local community or achieved a level of excellence in a particular field of endeavour.

Nominations were judged on the length and quality of service provided to an organisation as well as acts of compassion, generosity or bravery.

Mr Brown has devoted 54 years of voluntary service to his community and at 81 remains an active member of the Cambewarra Rural Fire Service Brigade and Lions Club of Nowra.

Within the RFS he has been Brigade Captain and held other senior positions for many years and continues to do so.

The 2012 Bronze Medals have been awarded to Velma Walker, Laurie Barton and Bruce Murphy (Photo right).

Mr Murphy (Bomaderry Lions, photo right) has been a member of Lions International since 1976, has coached football, supported and provided living assistance and medical support for a disabled couple, supported and funded RSL members to attend services in Canberra and most recently, has been involved in setting up and chairing the Shoalhaven Suicide Prevention Committee, the first of its type in Australia.

Shoalhaven City Mayor, Councillor Paul Green congratulated all of the award winners saying he was overwhelmed with the high level of award nominees.

“The Shoalhaven Medal provides Council with a unique opportunity to recognise those residents that have made an outstanding contribution to the local community or achieved a level of excellence in a particular field of endeavour over the past 12 months,” said Clr Green.

“I would like to congratulate John Bennett and all of the other winners for their hard work over a long period of time.

“While there were an amazingly high standard of volunteers, each of the winners are extremely deserved recipients.”

“It’s the hard working residents that selflessly give up their time, that make the community a better place to live”.

Lions Mint Australia: Program History

This program was established at the 1976 Melbourne Multiple District Convention, with the idea being brought forward by the then International Representative, the late Lion Jim McLardie. At the Convention, delegates voted to have Council conduct a Multiple District Project around a special Lion Mint, a peppermint candy to be made by Life Savers Australia Limited.

District Governor Maurie Minervini of then District 201J introduced the project on behalf of Council to the tune of “The Candyman Can”. He urged the appointment of a Candyman in every club in every District. It was believed, however, that our Multiple District clubs needed a year round fund raiser rather than a once a year project. This project was seen as ideal and would allow Lions more time to work on local community projects, rather than numerous fund raising activities.

Over the years that original vision has NEVER changed. “To provide Lions Clubs with a year round fund raising opportunity in the form of a Multiple District managed program.”

Initially, the program started slowly with some hesitation by Lions. John Powell, the then Council Secretary, was quick to see the opportunities and benefits to clubs and, as a consequence, made the Council offices available for administration and banking facilities. About 12 months after the program commenced, Lion Neil Williams introduced the virtues of plastic for the display dispenser, the likes of which are still in use today.

New Zealand Lions launched a similar program with Life Savers sending the first container of Lion Mints from Australia in 1981. Life Savers also commenced manufacturing in South Africa for a similar program there. In 1986 the first Lion Mints were exported from Australia to the USA. At about this time, a similar project in the UK failed probably because it did not follow the successful format of the Australian program. In 1987 the Canadian Lions established a similar program, and likewise with Scandinavia and Japan in 1988 and 1989 respectively.

In the past, Lions conventions in Australia regularly featured Lion Mint promotions with Lion Neil Williams and the dancing girls often performing.

In 1991, Life Savers, after a number of take overs, were eventually acquired by Nestlé Australia Limited. In 1992, John Douglas, the past General Manager Industrial for Life Savers, who has since become a Lion, decided to leave the new company and established a private company, International Mints Pty Ltd which then took over the warehousing and distribution of Lion Mints manufactured by Nestlé Australia Limited. All orders were being processed by the Multiple District Office for which they received a handling charge. Promotion was co-ordinated by the Multiple District Lion Mint Committee.

In accordance with acceptable and good business practice, in 1996 it was decided to test the market and as a result Cadbury were awarded a Supply Agreement for a re-badged Lion Mint Australia program. (Contrary to the opinion of others, Multiple District 201 has been “in the mint business” since the beginning of the Lion Mint program). International Mints Pty Ltd declined to tender for the Supply Agreement choosing instead to offer their products directly to Lions Clubs in Australia as they had been doing for overseas clubs and as they continue to do so.

Unfortunately, the taste and packaging of the Cadbury product was apparently not to the liking of the Lions of Australia. Also, the distributor for Cadbury, Mandy Martin, was wound up and this then allowed the legal termination of the contract with Cadbury. Hence, Nestlé Australia Ltd was approached in late 1998 to once again produce the Lion Mint to the original 1976 recipe which is still held by Nestlé to this day by virtue of their acquisition of Life Savers in the early 1980s. The only change has been in the range of confectionery offered to Lions Clubs with the addition of Fizzers and Musk and an assorted product.

Lions Clubs International (LCI) requires that all products sold using the Lions logo must be done so under licence to LCI. This is recognised by the inclusion, on the wrapping of all Lion Mint Australia products, of the Lions “fund raising” logo as depicted in the footer to this page below. The registered trade marks “Lions Mints” and “Lion Mints” are held by Lions Clubs International. Nestlé are a licensed supplier and the Multiple District, as such, does not need its own separate licence. This is a similar situation to that with the Lions Christmas Cake program. The distinctive Lion Mint Australia logo depicted in this Guide and on all Lion Mint Australia products and advertising was created in 1996 and the copyright to this logo assigned to Multiple District 201 at that time.

In October 2002, Nestlé moved their confectionery manufacturing to New Zealand in order to rationalise this side of their business and aimed at keeping costs down.

The current packaging of a 24 roll inner has also assisted in keeping costs down without significantly compromising the amenity of the display dispenser.

In late April 2006, John Douglas sold the business, International Mints Pty Ltd, to Dollar Sweets Company Pty Ltd of Victoria which has no known affiliation to the Lions of Australia.

Any reference, by other parties, to the Lion Mint Australia program “continuing to make record losses” is simply not true. However, it must be clarified that the decision to go with Cadbury in 1996 and then terminate that arrangement in 1998 did incur significant one-off establishment costs which the program has been recovering from over several years. These costs aside, the program, over and above the approximate $800,000 in funds raised annually by clubs and after administration costs are recovered, generally makes between $15,000 and $35,000 per year for MD201 (depending on stock levels at the time of reporting the financial position and performance of the Multiple District). It has been these funds which have pulled back our position on the establishment costs thus allowing the program to once again accumulate funds from mid 2006 and will do so even faster if more clubs become involved. At the time of awarding the Supply Agreement to Cadbury, most of the existing accumulated funds from the program went to making significant contributions to worthy causes at the direction of Convention which left very little to cover these establishment costs as a result of the contract termination.

The funds available from the sale of Lion Mints over the years have been a great financial boost to clubs for Community work. Australia’s Paralympic athletes, the Australian Lions Childrens’ Mobility Foundation (the Hart Walker) and the Lions Cord Blood and Childhood Cancer Research Foundations have been some of the worthy recipients of significant funds raised by the program.

Multiple District 201 Lion Mint Chairmen who have made a major contribution to the development and management of this programme are: PDG Neil Williams OAM (dec.), PDG Neville Elphick, PDG Doug Somerville (res.), PDG Ian Seymour OAM, Ralph Farran-Price, Tony Jimmieson, Sam Lochhead

INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT’S Reading Action Program

Why Reading? There are nearly 800 million people around the world today who cannot read.<sup>1</sup> This fact is astonishing given how important one’s ability to read is for learning and development. Literacy not only forms the basis for individual academic, occupational, and social success,<sup>2</sup> but it can also empower communities to fight poverty, reduce child mortality, achieve gender equality, and ensure peace and democracy.<sup>3</sup>

Reading and School Readiness

Reading aloud to young children is one the most effective ways to prepare children to succeed in school. However, many children, particularly those living in poverty, are not exposed to books and reading until they begin attending school. Research shows that books contain many words that children are unlikely to encounter frequently in spoken language. Children’s books actually contain 50% more rare words than primetime television or even college students’ conversations.<sup>4</sup> How can you help a child succeed in school? Serve as a volunteer reader or organize a book drive

Reading and Special Needs

Based on US statistics, only 10 percent of blind children are learning Braille. While audio devices are useful sources of information for blind people, only Braille offers complete command of written language. However, 85 percent of blind children attend public schools where few teachers know Braille. This percentage is even greater in developing countries that lack access to resources and teachers with Braille knowledge<sup>5</sup>. Find organizations that you can work with to reverse this trend

Access to Information and the Digital Divide

Access to technology notably affects literacy rates. The Internet provides opportunities for people to improve their lives. When people go online, they can get health information, use government services, manage finances, look for jobs, and do research for school. For most people in developing and transitioning countries, quality Internet access is not available or affordable. There is a great inequality in the global distribution of information technology. Worldwide, approximately 5 billion people—nearly 90 percent of the world’s population—do not have an opportunity to use computers connected to the internet.<sup>6</sup> Learn what the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation is doing to bridge the digital divide and how you can help

Technology for Facilitated Learning

Technology provides a wide variety of tools which can be used by people who are blind or have low vision to access information. The American Foundation for the Blind’s goal is to provide the information you need to learn about available technology and even discover new ways to use technology to enhance your everyday life.<sup>7</sup> Learn about assistive technology products for individuals with visual impairments

Books and Learning Resources

Before children can be taught effectively, schools or other educational institutions must be created and stocked with adequate teaching materials. Rural schools in many poorer countries are severely limited in their supplies. They may lack textbooks, paper, desks, blackboards, chairs – even pencils. Without good textbooks or other classroom resources, more teachers cannot necessarily improve the quality of learning (UNESCO). Learn about ways you can help get resources into classrooms
